

The EUNOÍA

From The Editor's Desk

Holy Child Sr. Secondary School after two successful Volumes of its E- Magazine "The HCS Eunoia", comes up with its final volume for the year 2020-21, The Eunoia Volume 3. It was a very innovative and creative journey throughout the year where both students and teachers participated in this new venture with great zeal and interest. Having a new platform to showcase one's potential and talent created a sense of fascination and eagerness in all and everybody strived hard to make this project a great success. The core members at all times were extremely overwhelmed and obliged to see such positive response from everyone and this brought them to help the school climb another ladder of success. The Principal, Management, Staff, Parents and our dear Students were always there to encourage and support the team with their participation and motivation. And we as one strong HCS family will continue working hard in bringing more volumes of our E-Magazine, with greater efforts whereby following our Motto, "ALWAYS MORE AND ALWAYS BETTER".

British Council

World Peace Day

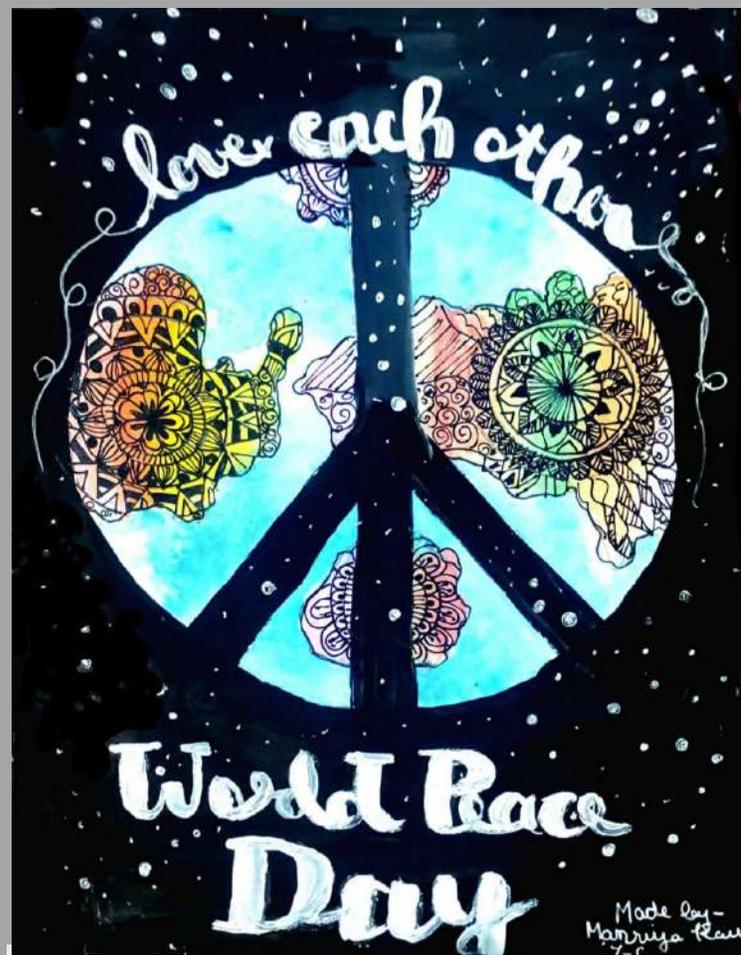

30th January

A day to say no to war and embrace world peace.....

Every year I hear a lot about World Peace Day but never really felt curious to know more about it , but this time when I was sitting at home and again this day reached my ear, I was inquisitive to read more about it and after I read , I couldn't stop myself from sharing this inspiring information with my readers too, The World Peace Day was established in 1981 by the UN General Assembly to commemorate and strengthen the ideals of peace both within and among all nations and people .Iceland is the most peaceful country in the world ,with an index value of 1.078 . The theme for the World Peace Day for the year 2020 was "Shaping Peace Together". We celebrate this day at school and place of work by reading stories about peace to a gathering of co-workers or students, peace flags are distributed to make a peace chain at some schools or places of work. To inaugurate the day, the United Nations peace bell is cast from coins donated by children from all continents except Africa and was a gift from the United Nations Association. On The International Day of Peace, United Nations is urging people to stand against attempts to use the virus to promote discrimination or hatred and I urge everyone to stay united and be peace lovers worldwide.

Talking About Newly Learnt Skill During Pandemic

Everyone has learnt a skill or two during the lockdown. It can be a new language, a new drawing type or even cooking. These are just some examples. I learnt two new skills during lockdown which are Calligraphy and Japanese. I learned Japanese by Duolingo app but there are many other apps available too. I have learnt counting from 1-10 in Japanese. 1 is ichi, 2 is ni, 3 is san, 4 is shi, 5 is go, etc. Calligraphy is the art of writing in which a broad tip pen is used to write words or quotes. I learned it from Google. These are the skills which I learnt in lockdown.

Talking About Newly Learnt Skills In Pandemic

During this pandemic, I have learnt many things: Importance of family, love, happiness, controlling sadness etc. But, other than these, I have learnt a variety of different skills. In the first two months of the pandemic, I learnt how to make many different dishes as well as desserts without using the gas stove. Examples- Fruit Cream, Toasts, salad, sandwiches and more. In the next 1-2 months, I learnt how to make cake batter and bake it. My grandmother and mother also taught me how to do knitting. In the next few months, I upgraded my drawing, reading, listening, speaking and craft skills. We had a lot of fun and the pandemic actually turned out to be a learning experience for me and my family.

Wildlife's Poignant Cries

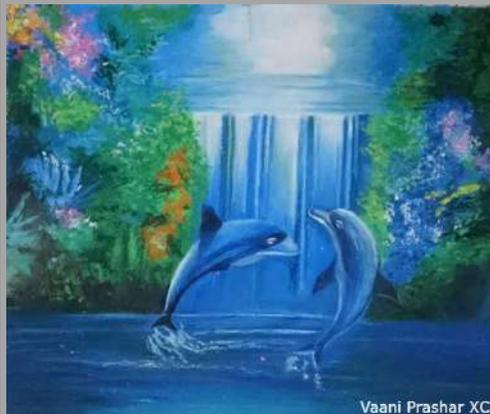

Where are they supposed to go,
 The fox, the badger, the hare, the doe?
 Where are they to lay their heads;
 On treeless wastelands or concrete beds?
 How are they to protect their young,
 From man, machine, poison and gun?
 There's nowhere safe, no wild expanse
 To run free, unguarded, to play, to dance.
 Polluted rivers, dwindling food
 Homeland devoid of nature's fruit.
 Hedgerows cleared, woodlands chopped
 Wetlands drained, canopies dropped.
 Their carcasses buried beneath urban decay;
 Babies sent from their mothers away .
 How can they teach their young to live
 On shrinking islands cast adrift?
 How to hunt, when to migrate;
 Survival skills, where to find a mate?
 Forced to live on man's haste,
 To forage amidst our toxic waste.
 Their Eden now an occupied abyss;
 A glimpse into our own Apocalypse.
 For they do have much more to give
 Than skins and goods
 So, let them live.

WORLD WILDLIFE

Being a responsible, caring and a sincere servant of our planet I would like to share my views and some facts about World Wildlife Day. The practice of preserving the wild species along with their habitat is known as wildlife conservation. Different wild animals and plants are on the verge of extinction. In order to save them from being extinct, we need wildlife conservation. Lots of causes are identified as a threat to wildlife. Among them are overexploitation by human beings, poaching, hunting, increase in pollution and population, etc. A report by the International Union for Conservation of Nature says that more than 27k wild species are at risk of extinction. Both national and international government efforts are required to save wildlife. In India, there are wildlife protection laws, but still, they are not implemented as expected. In order to protect wildlife, we need to protect their habitat first. Due to rapid increase in human population on this earth, the wild birds and animals are losing their natural habitat daily. Humans should ponder over this issue and try to save it for future generations.

I belong to myself

Wandering about and finding
People whom I trusted
Made me feel miserable

I forgot the word self worth
And went for things
Which weren't meant for me

Blaming others for losing myself
Was the only option left for me
Until I saw myself in the mirror
And realized that I belonged to me

That realization came at dawn
When I was on my bed
Thinking and crying about
The odds I had faced

People who said "every day is a new day"
Were not wrong, because that day
Made me realize who I was

Now I've stopped bothering
About what others think of me
But I'm still learning how to be
The best of me.

TAKING CARE OF YOUR MENTAL HEALTH DURING LOCKDOWN

We should still be thinking positive and also we should meditate regularly. We all are thinking that the year 2020 was a devastating year for us but if we use our power of positive thinking we would get to know how beneficial it was. We got time to spend with our families and most importantly with all the other benefits we also learnt that no matter whatever condition it is, if we all stand together we can face any problem. Positive thinking will help you find what our life really is ! Yes, there are many ups and downs but we must think positive in every situation. Meditating should be that part of your day which you do not skip no matter how busy or what day it is. You should take care of your mental as well as physical health during this time! –

IMPORTANCE OF MEDITATION AND POSITIVE THINKING IN COVID-19

During this COVID situation we all are sitting in our homes to prevent ourselves from this dreadful pandemic while we all wait for vaccine to protect us. As we all are locked up inside our homes, we all might feel stressed, anxious, angry, perturbed, irked, dejected, depressed, etc. To overcome these worries we should practice MEDITATION, YOGA and various MIND-RELAXING EXERCISES and most importantly POSITIVE THINKING. Meditation and yoga could boost our sensory health. Doctors are having success placing patients into a prone posture akin to the yoga Asanas in order to improve their respiration which is crucial in this pandemic. Not only can positive thinking impact your ability to cope with stress and your immunity, it also has an impact on your overall well-being. Your brain cannot operate efficiently under stress, so keep yourself calm and positive. A healthy mind resides in a healthy body should be our motto.
